PRIOR PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE:

C. Lewis & Company, LLP
New York, New York

Mr. Mortifoglio has extensive experience with the quantification and settlement of commercial insurance claims across a wide range of industries. He has also been involved with several catastrophe responses both domestically and internationally. Other projects include several fraud examinations and litigation support assignments. Mr. Mortifoglio started his career at the firm's headquarters in Norwalk, CT before receiving additional training while working abroad for nearly a year in the firm's London office. His most recent role was a Senior Associate at C. Lewis & Company's New York City office.

Select Engagements:

- Damage from Hurricane Sandy at a religious entity with over 100 individual locations affected. Chris helped to organize and manage all aspects of the claim on behalf of the client while working closely with the Insurance company's experts to resolve outstanding questions. The engagement required dealing with different record-keeping and accounting systems as well as personnel at each of the affected locations.

- Economic damages in excess of $80MM claimed as the result of alleged professional negligence in New York City. Mr. Mortifoglio managed a team that examined thousands of documents including email correspondence, loan agreements and architectural plans in order to review and substantiate the economic damages while working closely with attorneys representing the professional liability insurance carrier.
- Damage arising from the BP Gulf Coast oil spill affecting thousands of different businesses and individuals in the region. Mr. Mortifoglio assisted with the calculation of hundreds of claims that ranged in value from $0 - $50MM. Chris dealt with various industries while engaged on the project including seafood processing companies, restaurants, retail stores, hospitality and more in addition to calculating lost wages for individuals.
- Damage due to flooding caused by Hurricane Alex to a Class 1 railroad in Mexico and the United States. The insured claimed losses in excess of $80MM as a result of damages to crucial infrastructure. Mr. Mortifoglio assisted in the adjustment process by calculating the business interruption loss, extra expenses, and incremental increased costs of working incurred. Extensive domestic travel was required during the course of this nine-month engagement on behalf of the insurance carrier.
